Warrender water polo club is affiliated to Warrender Baths Club and runs a junior and senior section for girls, boys, men and women. The club is currently going from strength to strength, with the junior section growing rapidly and a number of the senior men and women's players currently playing in division 2 and division 3 respectively, of the British National League.

Warrender water polo club run a junior session at Forrester/St Augustine's CSH on a Saturday afternoon from 2.30-4pm. The session is overseen by junior convenor, Iain Woolley, and coached by a number of young players from the senior section of the club.

The sessions are for children and young people from the local community and are a fun introduction to water polo, teaching the basic skills of passing, catching, shooting and moving with the ball, all in a fun and friendly way. All water polo ability levels can be catered for but players should be confident in the water and competent in swimming front crawl.

The main aim of these sessions is to introduce children and young people to water polo and show there is more to do in a pool than just swim up and down. It's a great sport, is lots of fun and is something a bit different too.
