Poverty Proofing our school

Poverty-proofing the school day means considering how policies and practices can impact on children and young people affected by financial pressures and how this affects their experience of the school day. Solutions may not necessarily cost money but may, for example, require schools or education services to do something differently.

In every school in Scotland, more and more parents, carers and families face financial pressures, meaning that many of our children risk being locked out of opportunities to participate, learn and thrive. At Forrester High School, we must enable all of our young people to take full and equal advantage of opportunities and consider how to reduce the extra costs for parents and carers.

If you have any concerns when purchasing school Dress Code, please contact our Pupil Support Officer :
Sarah.ross@forrester.edin.sch.uk who can provide support for our young people. This might be temporarily for a few months or throughout a young person's full school life.
